

Meraki, The Entrepreneurship Cell of Maitreyi College, University of Delhi is proud to announce an eminent alumna, from B. A. (Hons.) Economics 2023 batch, Riya Aggarwal who co-founded the startup called Riding Rangers, is recognised by the Vice Chancellor of Delhi University and the CEO of Udit Udhmodya Foundation. Her start-up is also selected as one of the top 5 startups amongst 60 startups.

Riding Rangers is a hyperlocal delivery service operating in Delhi NCR, founded by two youngsters in 2019 during the lockdown as an NGO, it has now evolved into a successful business. They specialize in helping companies deliver products to their customers within the city. Their service addresses the existing problems in the logistics market, such as unreliable third-party partners, damages in transit, no COD facility etc. As of now, they have about 50 delivery facilities and partnerships with more than 100 companies.

MAITREYI COLLEGE, DELHI UNIVERSITY
NAAC A++ Accredited College

MERAKI: The Entrepreneurship Cell

CONGRATULATES

Riya Aggarwal, an alumna of our college and founder of Riding Rangers, a hyperlocal delivery service for achieving a milestone. The startup was recognised by the Vice Chancellor of Delhi University and CEO of Udit Udhmodya Foundation, along with being selected as top 5 out of 60 startups.

A collage of five images: 1. A sign for Riding Rangers. 2. Riya Aggarwal holding a certificate. 3. A person carrying a Riding Rangers delivery bag. 4. A person standing next to a banner for a one-week FDP on Design Thinking and Innovation. 5. A person standing next to a banner for Udit Udhmodya Foundation.